Hybrid Service Delivery in SUD Settings: Assisting Providers in Creating the Right Balance for Clinical Service Delivery

Virtual service delivery in the substance use and mental health treatment fields is here to stay, and as such, how to blend in-person and virtual service delivery becomes an important question. Hybrid service delivery is a mixture of in-person sessions with videoconferencing sessions and may include phone check-ins. This webinar will (1) Provide an overview of substance use clinical services delivered via videoconferencing and telephone (2) Describe and give examples of hybrid service delivery that is based upon the needs of the client, clinician, and provider (3) Illustrate what clinicians and administrators need to consider when initiating hybrid delivery services, like reimbursement, privacy/security issues, staffing, and telephone policies and (4) Discuss training and technical assistance activities and products.
